Franklin College Reflects Many Identities

When trying to remember what Franklin College was like in 1978-79, many years from now, surely everyone will think of something different. Some will think of friends, their favorite activity, or maybe a song that was special. Still others will say, "I remember the time when . . ." Every student, faculty member, and administrator will have one special thought in mind which will help them identify with this year; something to set this year apart, making it unique from all the others.

Identity is an important factor in life—everyone wants to be an individual yet still be a well-liked part of the student body. Trying not to be like everyone else, to do something outstanding, while joining in the fun and being part of the gang. Yes, everyone at Franklin College has their own identity, just as they each identify with different aspects of the college.

The following pages of the 1979 Almanack attempt to show the individuals and activities which will help students remember the year; to identify with the events that made this year different from all others, both past and future.

Movin' In & Orienting The Old & New

Dear Mom,

I've finally gotten everything moved into my room. My roommate is pretty decent as are the other guys on my floor. Saturday afternoon we had to take these tests. Come to college and the first thing they do is give you a test! Orientation is o.k. We had some skits with our groups last night—everyone got a little crazy. The administration filled us with fun-facts about our class: 217 freshmen, 23 transfers, etc. My ID photo looks like it is for the Post Office. Had an all-campus cook-out tonight. I just got back from a dance. A good time scoping the females. Even had "older" women ask me to dance! Got to go. Registration in the morning. Write so I'll get mail. Send stamps and $$$.

Love,
your "collegiate" son,
Freddie Franklin

Homecoming Day '78 Has Ups & Downs

From deep in Franklin territory, an unidentified FC defenseman blocks the opposition out for John Williams' successful punt.

The Homecoming air was filled with the color of parachute silk as skydivers from Kelly's Field delivered the game ball in a unique way to Goodell Field.

Queen candidates and their escorts toured the crowd prior to the game in the Queen's Float. The float was built by the IBM's.

Although October 14 began gray and rainy, the clouds made way for the sun just in time for the Homecoming game and ceremonies.

Parachutists from Kelly's Field near Mooresville, Indiana opened the pregame ceremony with jumpers from the sky bringing the game ball with them. The first Homecoming float FC had had in years was one specially designed and constructed by the Independent Bryan Men (IBM's) for the Queen candidates. Valerie Brown was crowned 1978 Queen by her successor Denise Marulic. The Delta Delta Delta/Sigma Alpha Epsilon decorations, "Trap Those Tigers By Their Tails," won first place honors. Pregame and halftime music was provided by the Seymour High School band.

A late game scoring explosion by the Georgetown Tigers ended any hope for a Grizzly win. Holding a 14-7 lead, the Tigers scored 22 points in the last nine minutes leaving FC at the very short end of the 36-7 score. Grizzlie halfback Brad Angle scored the only Franklin points on a second quarter one-yard run.

Earlier in the day, students and alumni were honored and recognized for their achievements at a special convocation. Paul Cummings, a student alumni favorite, was one of the six to receive a Distinguished Alumni Citation at the program.

Brad Angle gets the step on Georgetown's defensiveman. The Grizzlies offense was not able to produce the big plays during the game.

Music To Watermelons

To Ropes: Homecoming Week '78

Following on the heels of Fall Fever Day, Homecoming Week 1978 had a variety of activities for all students. Horseshoe Camp was the site of an Oktoberfest Monday night. Haywagons provided transportation to the camp while a German band played music for those in attendance. The annual Lambda Chi Alpha Watermelon Bust brought students to the mall Tuesday. Renee Dewey was named Miss Watermelon Bust. Seed spitting contests, a watermelon toss, and relays were just a few of the activities. The powderpuff football game scheduled Wednesday had to be cancelled due to rain. The game was later rescheduled and won by the junior/senior women. Students filled the Franklin Room to watch the antics of the six-man Rotagilla Band Thursday. This group from Florida gave a short concert. The cold water of Province Park's creek was all that stood between rival teams from the four residence halls. Friday night's and Saturday morning's trials did not see too many trips into the cold water—only two winners: Elsey third north and Bryan third. A short pep session and bonfire followed Friday's rounds. Homecoming day had its own traditional activities. The week ended with an SEB-sponsored dance at the Columbus Holiday Inn.

RIGHT: The flames from Friday night's bonfire/pep rally took the chill off the air. A small number of students attended the event.

ABOVE: An ingenious group of Hoover hall residents found and unveiled the Junior Rock for the 1928 class' 50th anniversary.

Rotagilla: Zany Musical Entertainment

Music has always been a part of people's lives. There are so many types with which we can identify; everyone has their own favorites. Students at Franklin College were exposed to all types of musical events this year, but the one which can probably be termed most 'unique' was the performance by Rotagilla (that's alligator spelled backwards). This group of zany guys from Florida offered one and a half hours of musical comedy entertainment during homecoming week in the Franklin Room.

Fall Fever '78: Belle Cruise, V-ball Tourney

Fall Fever Day surprised many students this year by falling on a Friday. SEB sponsored the 2nd annual Fall Fever Eve Belle of Louisville trip, offering a three hour cruise down the Ohio River. Students danced to the music of Prana, or enjoyed the stars and the cool night air on the upper deck. On Friday, many students decided to take advantage of the three day weekend and headed for home. For those who stayed on campus, activities centered around the volleyball tournament, with a $100 first prize. Twelve coed teams, of six to eight members, began at 9:00 AM and played away most of the day in the single elimination matches. Kevin McCullough's team, consisting of Phil Abel, Ruth Bourquin, Gary Fisher, Lynda Cutter, Becky Buening and Brian Houston were the champions.

Indian Summer Hits Franklin With Force

With an Indian Summer lingering into mid-October, students found it hard to study when warm temperatures and sunshine beckoned them outdoors. Activities ranged from football to tennis to reading under a tree to walking around campus. Fall Fever day may have officially come October 6, but many unofficial "fever days" were proclaimed earlier.

Snow, Travels, Internships Highlight Winter Term '79

BELOW: Jeni Sipes found out how bad the weather can really be when she had to call a tow truck to pull her car out of the snow.

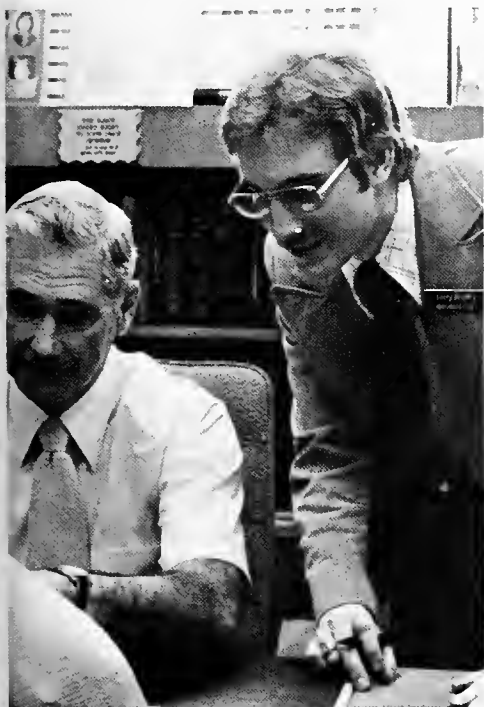

Snow, slush and ice covered Franklin's campus during January making Winter Term '79 one of traying fun and snowball enjoyment. Students staying on campus trudged through many feet of snow to attend various WT classes. Evening entertainment included movies in Elsey lobby, dusk-to-dawn bowling and roller skating and half price pizza nights at Pizza Hut. Although the weekends offered the worst weather, many adventuresome students braved the storms for weekends at home.

Internships provided a variety of learning and practical working experiences for FC students. The Indiana State House, Children's Museum of Indianapolis, newspapers, doctor's offices, hospitals, learning centers, even a funeral home were just some of the internship sites.

Other students found themselves participating in valuable travels for their WT experiences. Keith Miller and Greg Smith spent part of Christmas vacation and all of January backpacking through 10 countries in Europe. Six others, Nancy Fox, Fanny Ivanoff, Randy Mason, Arnie Petre, Patty Sexton and Page Townsend accompanied associate Spanish professor Alicia Pianca and retired FC professor Myra McFadden on a historical yet fun-filled trip to Puerto Rico.

A little bit of nothing is all that Rita Williams (Little Mary) holds in a duet with Margo Whitley (Mme. Von Liebedich).

The three-night performance of "Little Mary Sunshine" brought laughter and old fashion romance to the FC stage. Two of the nights were standing ovations. The forest rangers, young ladies, Indians, and the heroes and villains sang and told of life in the Colorado Rockies.

Renee Dewey directed the fall semester production of Charles Dickens' immortal "A Christmas Carol." Students worked with children of the faculty to bring the seasonal show to the stage. Patty Sexton and Dan LeClerc starred as the Cratchet parents; Lazlo Pinnyei portrayed Scrooge.

"Three Rms Riv Vu" was the work of director Laura Dyer, and was presented in early February. Bunny Nash and Kent Robinson starred as two young people caught in an unusual circumstance in an empty apartment.

"Playing croquet is a wonderful way to spend an afternoon . . ." The young ladies of West Chester Finishing School lament an afternoon without male companionship. Laura Hale, Becky McCain, Terri Gerth, Cindy Heflin, Lisa Kitchen, and Patty Fleener sing.

It began with the long, cold weeks of waiting for the snow to melt and Spring Break to arrive—the phenomenon of "Spring Fever." The "illness" peaked upon the return from a week in Florida, Texas, or home. The seven weeks until summer loomed ahead. Activity on the Mall increased. The books came outdoors with the Frisbees and suntan lotion. Elsey, Cline, and Bryan beach populations swelled to capacity as people hit the "sand." The Wright Brothers entertained Spring Fever night after Horseshoe refreshments during the day. Student Congress added to the Spring hysteria with an unprecedented Spring Fling Day. Greek Week, Franklin Follies, and Finals came much too quickly. And, in a bewildered voice, people wondered where the second semester had gone.

Greek Week Action

Rain-Shortened

Squeezed between the books and May Sing practices, Greek Week added yet another dimension to Greek and campus life.

From Monday's relay races to Sunday's May Sing, competition and good fun reigned. There were the usual tricycle malfunctions, colds from apple bobbing, dramatic softball catches, and the beautifying of the campus. But added to all this was the constant threat of rain which eventually cancelled the picnic and rope pull.

Delta Zeta and Lambda Chi Alpha claimed first places in May Sing. Nancy Glover, Ken Inskeep, and Jim Price were chosen as Outstanding Greeks, DZ Ellen Richert was May Sing Queen.

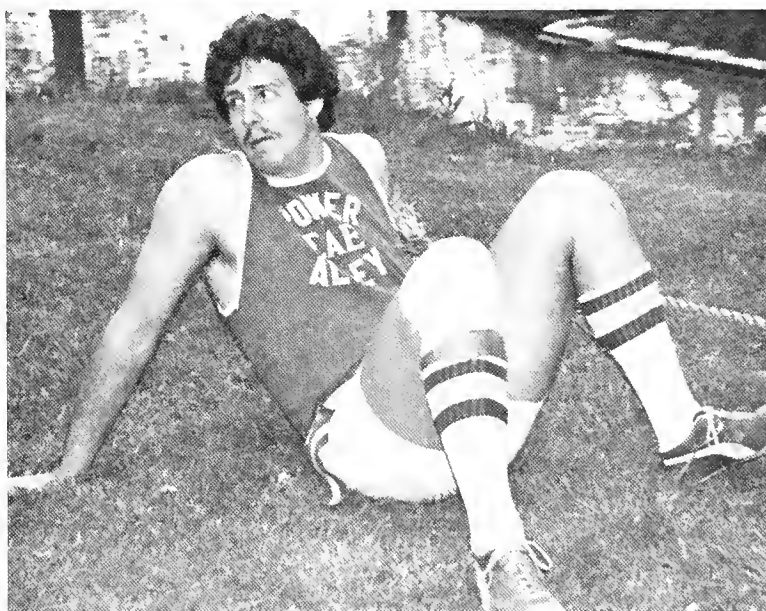

Saturday morning was campus clean-up time. Elizabeth McDonald, ABOVE, and B. B. Schmid police the tennis court area. Tom Robertson and Mike Rosenfeld, RIGHT, give the sign a coat of varnish.

The end of the week brought the rain, but that didn't dampen people's spirit. LEFT: It was a chilly departure from the shores of Sugar Creek. The SAE's and DZ's were the raft race winners. BELOW: Mike Deffner rests before the downpour which cancelled the rope pull and picnic.

ABOVE: Vickie Kirby and several other students enjoyed the teeter-totters. RIGHT: A May Sing tradition was revived with the Daisy Chain. The women were chosen from their respective sororities and independent groups for the leadership they had given. Lu Young and Nancy Glover were two of the 10 Greek and Independent women on the Chain.

128 Students Become Franklin Alumni May 26th

For the 145th time, Franklin College conducted its Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. Franklin alumnus Dr. J. Ralph Beaty spoke at Baccalaureate service where he challenged students to seek the "third choice" in their lives. Dr. I. George Blake led the dedication of the Robert Homer Kent memorial Chapel window.

The Gathering also sang in the service.

Dan LeClerc, representing the Class of 1979, reminded people not to forget the past. LeClerc also read a special congratulatory letter from President Jimmy Carter. Bachelor's degrees and Academic Honors were given to the 118 Spring graduates; 10 students received their degrees December 10.

Honorary degrees were awarded to the Rev. Dr. J. Ralph Beaty, Thomas W. Braden, and Commencement speaker George Doup.

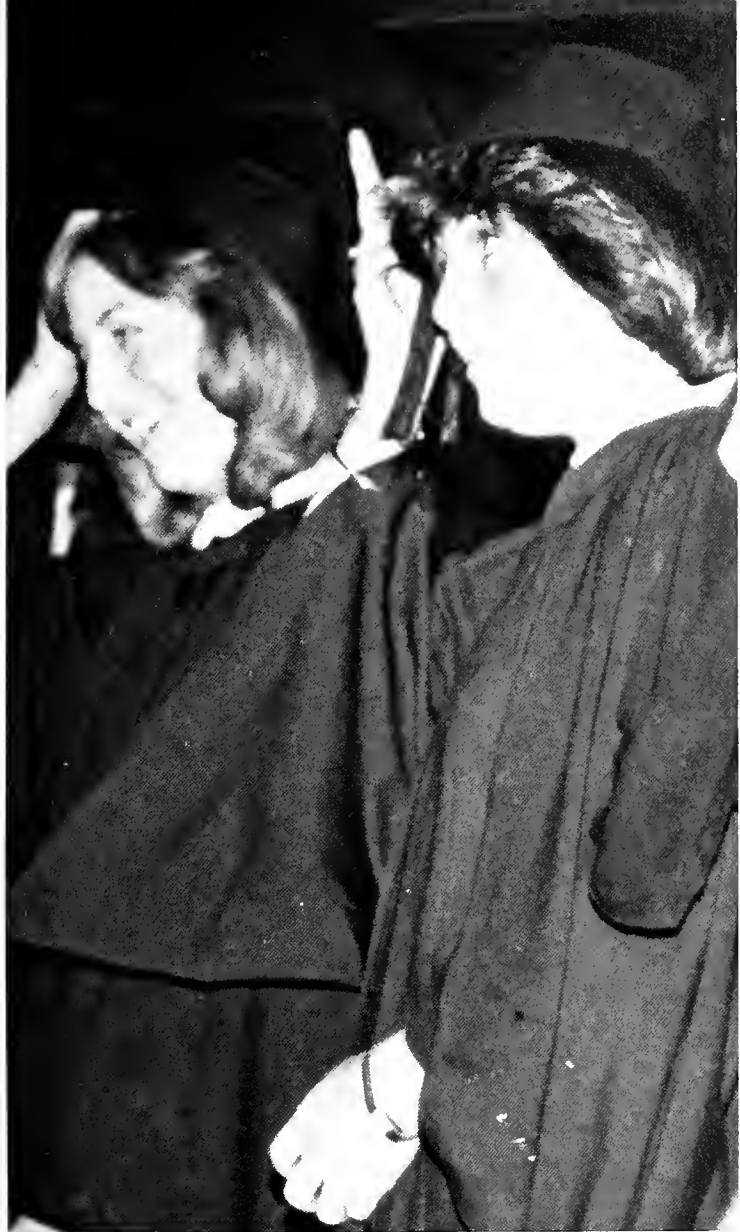

Dr. George V. Launey was awarded the Roger D. Branigin Excellence in Teaching Award.

Homecoming was the time for the women of Delta Delta Delta. Paired with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, the Tri-Delts won first place in the Homecoming house decorations. Sister Valerie Brown was also chosen Homecoming Queen.

Several service projects were undertaken by both the DDD 14-member pledge class and the active chapter. The 24-hour Rock-A-Thon and stationery sale benefited the $200 annual scholarship and the DDD national philanthropy. The pledge class also held their dance, "Academy Awards," at Fox Cliff.

The Franklin chapter was the winner of the State Scholarship award for Tri-Delta chapters. Liz Lynn and Karen Brown were recipients of the chapter's Little and Big Sponsor Scholarship awards.

The women of Delta Delta Delta were active in several campus organizations.

Sponsoring their second dance Marathon, the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity raised over $900 for the Franklin area Senior Citizens. The men also conducted weekly Sunday services at Homeview Nursing Home as well as tutoring at Webb Elementary school.

The Epsilon colony of KDR was awarded two National awards: Scholarship and special recognition for the first Dance Marathon. Campus-wide, KDR's had the second highest Greek G.P.A., and led the FC fraternities in scholarship. Combining with the women of Pi Beta Phi, the men placed second in Homecoming decorations. The chapter also participated in Mardi Gras, Campus Clean-up, and May Sing.

Ken Inskeep of KDR was named Co-Outstanding Greek Man of the year.

Several picnics and weekly social hours were held with the brothers and Little Sisters of the Light.

The brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha donned white shirts and narrow ties and then sang their way through a collection of "Blues Brothers" hits to capture first place in May Sing.

LCA sponsored the Run For Those Who Can't and a Homecoming Mum sale in the fall. With the ZTA's, the men trick-or-treated for UNICEF. Boy's Club work, a Founder's Day celebration, and an Easter Egg Hunt for faculty children rounded out the Chi's service projects.

The brothers won first place in "A" league IM football as well as a first place finish in IM wrestling. Several Chi's participated in theatrical and musical productions.

100% Initiation Tops Phi Delta Theta Year

A 100% initiation and the initiation of Dr. Thomas Howald are two of the Phi Delta Theta's highlights. The chapter also took trips to the Clyde Beatty Circus, Bradford Woods, and participated in the Indiana Delta All-Phi basketball tourney.

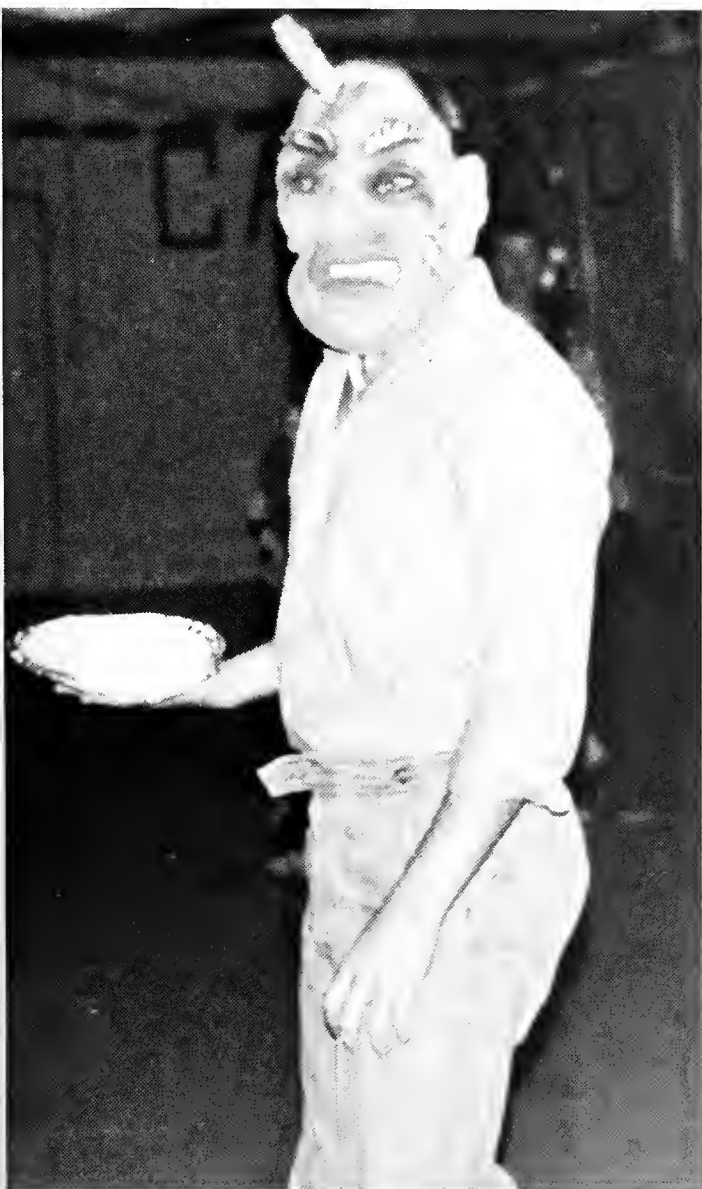

Along with the full initiation, the PDT pledge class was the top ranked Greek pledge class in scholarship. The entire chapter was second in fraternity G.P.A. A National award in both Scholastic achievement and Chapter Improvement were earned by the men.

Phi Delt Jim Price was named Co-Outstanding Greek Man of the year. Tim Park's received the chapter's Outstanding Pledge award.

The brothers participated with the Zeta's in the Homecoming Cart-a-Thon; trick-or-treating for UNICEF was done with the DZ's. Greek Week softball was won by the PDT's and Pi Phi's. Phi Delta Theta placed second in May Sing.

Monthly birthday dinners, cookouts, and socials were conducted with the Little Sisters of the Sword.

LEFT: The patented Mark Cohen cream caught many people off-guard at Mardi Gras as the Phi Delt's once again sold contracts to cream pie one's favorite person.

Twenty-four hour marathons seemed to be an integral part of the Pi Beta Phi chapter's life. With the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, the women played volleyball to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy. Over $400 was raised by PBP for their national philanthropy Arrowmont in the 24-hour Games Marathon. Elsey Hall's laundry room also got a new coat of paint as a Pi Phi service project.

Nancy Glover of PBP was named Outstanding Greek Woman of 1979. The sisters took the Greek Week relay races, softball, and trivia bowl with Kappa Delta Rho, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, respectively. Their "Fiddler on the Roof" rendition placed second in May Sing. The 15-member pledge class gave a surprise Christmas party for their members in addition to their pledge dance. Joni Anderson was named Outstanding Pledge.

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon braved the cold water of Sugar Creek to win the Greek Week raft race. With the DZ's, the SAE's won relay races; Pi Beta Phi-SAE combined for the Trivia Bowl title.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity sponsored the annual Blood Drive on campus and is sponsoring the Campus Foster Child for a month. With the PBP women, the men raised money for Muscular Dystrophy with a 24-hour volleyball marathon.

Intramural athletics featured several SAE championship teams: B league football, B and C league basketball, A league softball, and IM track. SAE's were also involved in several campus activities.

Homecoming house decorations with DDD produced a first place trophy. Brad Burpo was named Outstanding Pledge.

"Hoagie Sale" is the term most synonymous with the women of Zeta Tau Alpha. The 15-member pledge class held numerous sales to raise money for their pledge function—"Y'All Come"—and a special Big Sister Week.

Service projects were carried on by the women. The Homecoming weekend Cart-A-Thon with Phi Delta Theta fraternity, trick-or-treat for UNICEF with the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, canned food drive at Thanksgiving, and the May sponsorship of the Campus Foster Child were just a few of the projects undertaken.

The Beta Theta chapter won honors both Nationally and Statewide. The National Activities Award was given to the FC chapter at the 1978 summer convention. Lu Ann Young was named top Senior Woman at ZTA State Day; the FC group won the Scholarship Award at the state level. The pledge class was top G.P.A. winner of the sororities on campus. Melinda Macy was tabbed as Most Panhellenic Woman. Amy Taylor was Outstanding ZTA Pledge.

Are We Becoming Too Much Of A "Suitcase" Institution?

(Editor's Note: The following has been reprinted with permission from THE FRANKLIN, Volume 74, Number 5, October 20, 1978. Teresa Colby is the by-lined writer.)

Franklin College has long been considered a "suitcase college," a college whose students migrate to and from their homes every weekend. On Fridays the students load up their cars with dirty laundry for mom and an empty wallet for dad, and on Sunday nights they unload their cars and cram for Monday's exams.

Many students questioned recently in a man-on-the-street poll believe Franklin falls into the category of "suitcase colleges" and a majority believe so because they themselves are "suitcase students" or had been told that Franklin is a suitcase school.

Student Entertainment Board director Mike Zarr said SEB has been trying to keep more students on campus during the weekends by scheduling more activities. "We plan to have at least a movie every weekend," Zarr said.

Student Congress President Scott McKain said SEB is doing a better job than last year and added that attendance at SEB events has improved over previous years. Yet a number of students continue to be homeward bound on weekends.

One contributing factor to Franklin's "suitcase" image is that an increasing number of students are from Indiana while the number of out-of-state students decreases. Freshman Mindie Jewell, native of Columbus, said, "It's only a twenty minute drive, so I go home about twice a week, and sometimes on the weekends I go to work and to do my laundry."

Nolan Cooper, vice president for admissions and financial aid, added that 19 percent of the Franklin student body are commuters.

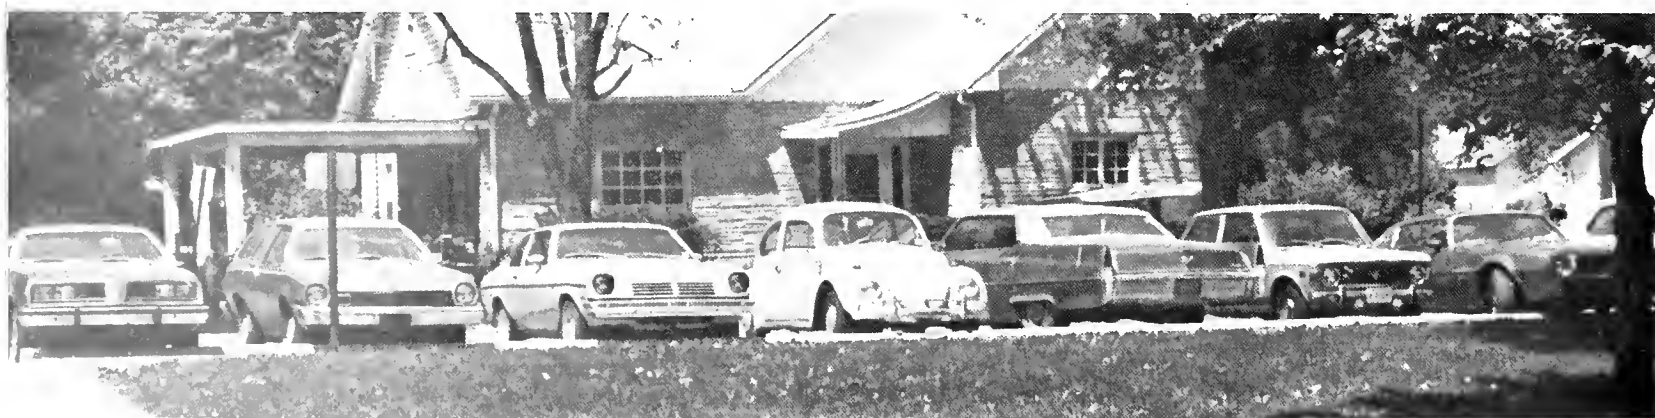

Many of the "suitcase" students are freshmen. The main reason most freshmen go home appears to be a certain amount of homesickness. Says freshman Debbie Miller, "I leave because I want to see my boyfriend, and I just like to go home."

Another freshman, Marchelle Peyton, said, "When nothing is going on here, like a home football game, I usually go home to be with my parents."

In many cases, as students get older they go home less often. Most upperclassmen agree that they stay at schools on the weekends simply because they have more to do here. Senior Chris Sokolek said that she finds that "more and more you just need to be on campus."

Karen Kissick, also a senior, said, "Most of my friends are here, and after a time you outgrow your parents."

Junior Kathy Watt added, "I don't have a way home because I don't have a car, so I do things here with my friends."

ABOVE: Come Monday morning nary a parking space was to be found, but from Friday afternoon until late Sunday night, persons could pick from a variety of parking spaces due to the mass migration away from Franklin College to home.

Commuters make up almost $\frac{1}{3}$ of the Franklin College student body. These students range in age from the usual 18 year-old freshman to the not-so-unusual 45 to 50 year-old adult who has returned to school to get their degree. Many commuters leave from their homes to get to classes before most on-campus dwellers have turned the alarm off for the FIRST time. Surrounding Johnson County has the largest number of commuters, but others come from Columbus, Greenfield, Shelbyville, and other towns nearby and far away. Fraternities and sororities have their share of the commuting membership. Other campus organizations and activities have an active commuter participation. Theatre, music, publications, and the myriad of things to do are covered by the commuters as well as the on-campus population. Franklin College offers a useful alternative to the completion of a college degree with their strong commuter program.

ABOVE: For most commuting students, their cars become the store place of books, lunches, coats, and chaos. Toni Witherby also utilizes her Gremlin's roof in unloading books for the day.

Injuries Plague Grizzlies; 'Optimism' Is Key

Injuries contributed to the disappointing 1-9 season record posted by the Grizzly football team. The entire defensive line as well as other team members fell victim to injuries all season. Despite the overall poor team record, many personal bests were attained. John Williams was selected to the All-Conference squad along with being named Honorable Mention NAIA All-American Punter. With 43 pass receptions to his '78 season, Jeff Atwood was named All-Heartland Collegiate Conference. Individual performances by fullback Joe Galovic and offensive linemen Randy Pease, Russ Gant, Jeff Farmer, and Mark Zimmerman were also bright spots in the year.

Inexperience on many levels plagued the field hockey team all season. The year ended for the Grizzliettes with a loss to Indiana University in the State tournament and a 5-9-1 record.

Kim Carroll, freshman, led the team in scoring. She was followed by Judi Warren. Diane Timbrook's speed was noted as an asset to the squad. Coach Jenny Johnson felt individual improvement was the biggest gain of the '78 season.

Franklin's volleyball squad not only adapted to both a new coach—Mark Britner—and six freshmen, but the team had the best overall won-loss record of any FC athletic team in '78-'79.

Outstanding character, cooperation, and a superior attitude among team members were listed by Britner as the keys to the 28-6 year. The Grizzliettes played their season best against Vincennes in the District Tourney.

Two of the 11 starters, Sue Pardieck and Lisa Fisher, graduate leaving a solid nucleus of experienced players behind them.

Cross-Country: Determination Key To Success

For the first time in quite a while, the cross-country team has become a competitive squad for Franklin College. The '78 season was the harrier's best since 1971. The team finished with a 5-5 record and 10th out of 17 teams at the Little State meet.

Team captain Bob Relos proved to be the #1 man throughout the season. Relos gave an outstanding performance at the Grace Invitational placing 12th, and finished well in Little State competition. Relos was voted Most Valuable Runner.

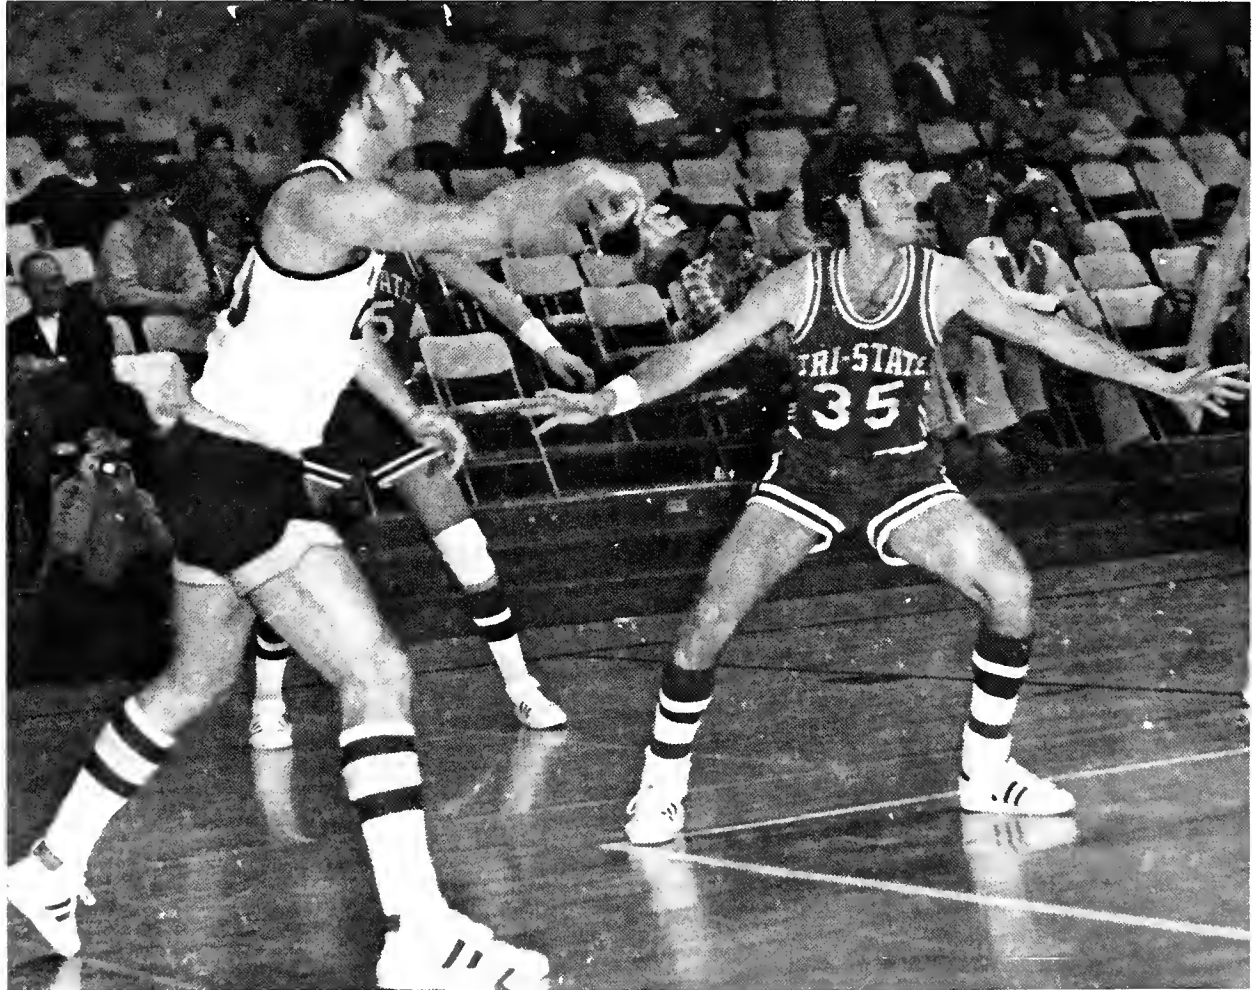

The strength of the team was based upon letter winners Pat Cowger, Mark Stevenson, Don Pittman, and Kevin Huneck. Cowger, eligible this season following transfer, was stiff competition for Relos. Sophomore Pittman placed 13th in the Heartland Conference meet. Runners Gary Gosch (senior), Greg Cataldi (junior), and freshman John Warner all credited the team's success.

Although it was his first year at Franklin, Coach John Carlson contributed much to the team. "Without his hard work and dedication, we could not have made it this far," faculty advisor Robert Lovell commented. "With his guidance, this is only the beginning of a great cross-country squad."

For the tenth year in a row, Franklin College's Grizzly basketball team put together a winning season. The 15 win-10 loss record included victories over nationally ranked Tri-State, Northern Kentucky State, and St. Joseph.

All-District Gordy Clemons and All-District Honorable Mention Doug West both suffered injuries midway through the season causing the Grizzlies to use the strength of their bench. The basically inexperienced team pulled together for what Coach Bob Lovell termed an "extremely successful year."

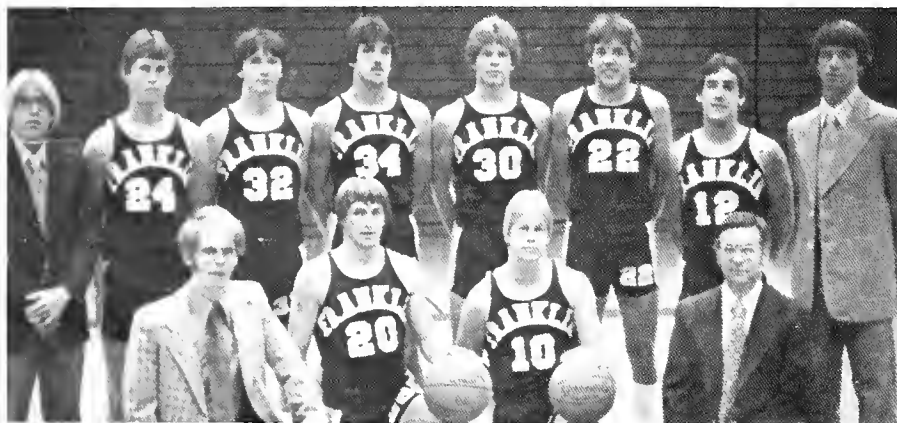

Sophomore Randy Reece was voted MVP in this the sixth straight year Franklin has been ranked the top NAIA Independent team.

Men, Women JV Squads End With Seven Wins

Both the men and women's Junior Varsity basketball teams gave players the chance to gain the needed experience for college ball.

Men's MVP Jeff Warner led a highly talented group to a 7-3 season. Coach Stuart Mill pointed to three games where FC came from behind to win in a dramatic style: Indiana Central (early in the season), Anderson, and DePauw. Randy Schuldt was tabbed for his performance against Anderson where he exploded for 25 points and 18 rebounds. A full JV schedule is planned for next season.

Ruth Bourquin took the reins of the women's JV team. Players Lisa Sellers, Vicki Choka, Mary Roehrs, and Kim Carroll performed well in first year play. Sellers was moved to the Varsity team for State Tourney. Hustle characterized the squad which finished the year at 7 wins and 4 losses.

FC's State Reign Ends; 13-5 Year For Women

The reign of the Franklin women's basketball team on the state title came to an end when they lost to the Butler Bulldogs in the small college tourney. Coach Ruth Callon's squad finished the season at 13-5.

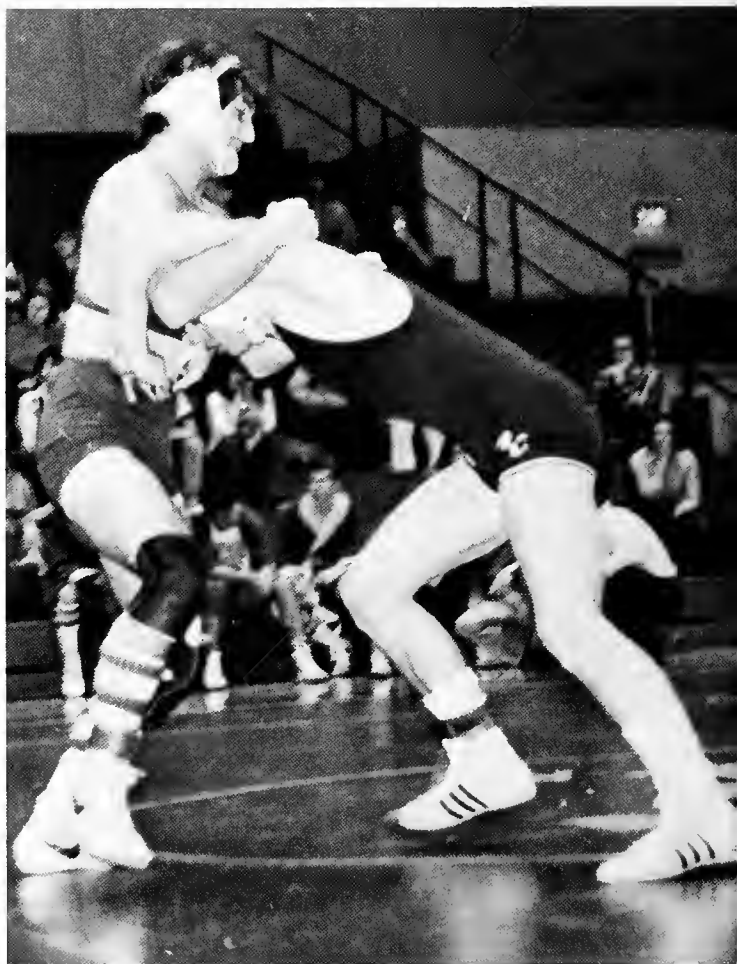

FC did defeat Ball State's varsity team before a packed home crowd. The Grizzliettes came from behind to pull off the victory. The women also stayed close to Mt. St. Joe, a large, ranked school.

The only real injury which affected FC's playing ability was to Pamm Dorsey who injured her knee during Christmas. Coach Callon pointed to the strength of the bench. Both freshmen Janet Muston and Peggy VanDenburgh added to the depth. Muston and teammate Colleen Sexton set and tied the scoring record at 28 points in a single game.

Only one senior—Kathy Roberts—leaves, but six juniors will be lost the following season. The JV program and recruited players are expected to fill the void to be created.

Wrestling in the 190 lb. division, senior Mark Elliott placed sixth in the NAIA National Wrestling Tournament. With his performance, Elliott gained All-American status. Elliott wrestled the entire tourney with injuries to his knees and shoulder. Elliott had a 19-5 record going into the Nationals. He was District and FC Tournament champ, and finished second in Little State.

Grizzly Grapplers Boast Individual Champs

Injuries and a tough schedule plagued the FC wrestling team of Coach Bill Unsworth.

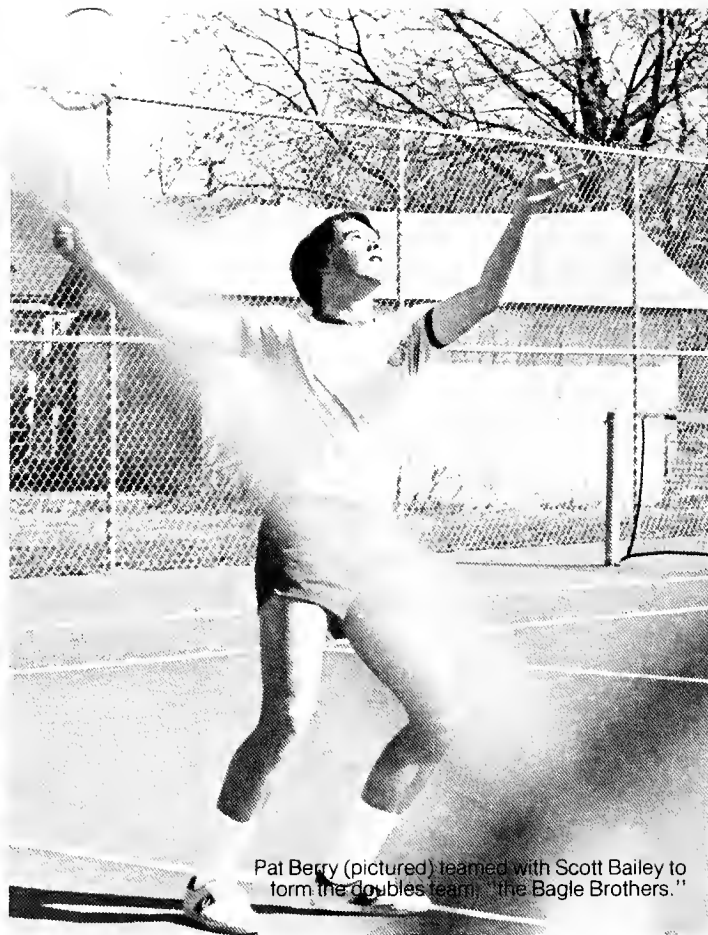

"We didn't have one meet where we had a full team," Coach Unsworth commented.

Despite all the adversity, senior Mark Elliot was named All-American in the 190 lb. class; Todd Nobbe and Scott Billings were 158 and 150 lb. Little State Champions, respectively; and wrestlers Dale Schmaltz, Kevin Stevens, and Bill Cullom placed well in District and Conference competition.

Teamwise, the grapplers finished 5-6 in dual meets, champions of their own Invitational, and second in NAIA District 21 tourney. Franklin was also recognized as one of the top 40 NAIA teams in the country.

The tennis teams of Doreen St. Clair fared well in their seasons. The women posted a 6-4 season, with CoCo Albertson finishing at 9-4. Sue Rider, Kathy Tucker, Nancy Glover, and Jeanne Fitzgerald graduate leaving seven women for the fall campaign. St. Clair's men placed fifth in the Heartland Collegiate Conference. Squad MVP Tim Fuller placed fourth in the Conference singles; Fuller teamed with Mike Urban for a fourth place doubles finish in the same meet. Three men graduate.

Golfer Steve Vernasco was named to the All-Conference and All-District teams. Vernasco was also medallist in two tournaments. Coach Robert Holbert's team had its ups-and-downs between bad weather, injuries, and illnesses. Senior Doug West and Vernasco were named Co-MVP's.

Records were the stuff the track teams were made of. Senior Bob Relos set the Steeplechase record in an event he never had the chance to practice. Most of the women's track records were set during the latter portion of the season.

A short season for the men combined with poor weather made meets and performances sometimes disappointed. Runners Woody Atwood and Rick Culver were recipients of the Most Valuable Runner award.

The addition of enthusiastic players and a pitching machine to Coach Jenny Johnson's softball program brought good results.

FC fared well against Ball State's Junior Varsity squads turning triple and double plays. The modified round-robin tourney hosted by Franklin gave them three victories in the final 11-7 record.

Betty (Boots) Randolph and Beth Slack were keys to the experience gained by the young softball squad. Cindy King, Slack, and Randolph combined to hit over 100 RBI's. A tough outfield of Vicki Choka, Mary Roehrs, Lisa Fisher, and Becky Buening gave solid defense.

18 players are expected to turnout for the 1980 season. Three graduate leaving talent and depth behind.

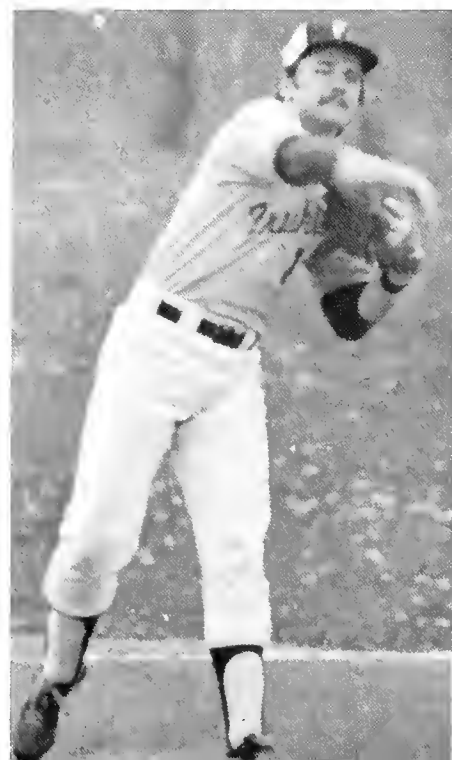

Three Victories For Baseball Team

ABOVE: The mound came to be the convention and conference headquarters for Coach Lovell to settle the defensive and pitching problems. RIGHT: Jeff Brummett fires across the diamond.

With only three victories in '79, Coach Bob Lovell and the Grizzly baseball team have only optimism for the future. The year past was seen as a "learning season" for all. Pitchers Keith Moenter and Mike Schaeffer were listed by Lovell as outstanding contributors to the season. Brian Houston had the lowest earned run average of the hurlers. Vince Burpo (highest batting average), Greg Sciarra, and Gordon Cox provided the Grizzly offensive punch with their bats. Two players will be lost from the '79 team.

Barbara Susan

July 5, 1959—
January 4, 1979

We just can't know what lies ahead
From day to passing day
What changes God is planning
In His wise and loving way . . .

We just can't know the reasons
Why our sorrow has to be
Why we must lose the ones we need
And love so specially . . .

We just can't know—but we can trust
And faith can help us find
Our way to those "tomorrows"
That will bring us peace of mind.

RIGHT: Gary Teegarden peers through the chicken wire at the next egg-thrower. PDT sponsored the Egg-the-Phi booth at Mardi Gras.

ABOVE LEFT: Julie Wells goes clown as she trick-or-treats for UNICEF for the DZ's and Phi Delt's. ABOVE: The infamous Igloo Brothers appear again, this time in Mardi Gras as "Kissable Bachelors." Joe Lesko and Steve Vernasco are only two of the Hoover Hall band who stole the show at the Panhel Gong Show.

RIGHT: The 50's hit FC and Cheryl Michel. SEB sponsored the dance.

Zaniness Invades The Minds Of All

ABOVE: The SAGA sickness of '78 was an illness of great concern to all. The IBM's protest the action taken with an "eat-in." Willard Moore, Jeff Madsen, Tim Fuller, Larry Gates, Dennis Carey, and Rodger Pelo catered their supper from McDonald's.

One never knew just what "wild 'n crazy" thing would happen next. Almost once every week, the statue of Ben Franklin would have another intriguing message pertaining to the College. It is reported that Ben has grown 6" wider in the past year from the numerous coats of paint applied to him. The movie "Halloween" inspired a visit to Elsey from the Trust—alá spook apparel. Residents would go on TP sprees in Elsey keeping the RA's on their toes. Fraternity and sorority dances allowed people to get wild with a reason. But most people didn't need a reason—they're just naturally bizarre.

Two Can Spell Trouble Or Fun Or Friendship

RIGHT: Willard Moore wears badges proclaiming him to be a "brane" and professing his "winning" of the diploma.

Doing Things Individually

ABOVE: Barb Moon brought the books outdoors as soon as the weather got a little nice.

BELOW: Senior wrestler and co-captain Todd Nobbe psyches-up prior to the Indiana Central match.

For those who graduated this year is very easily identified. But there were other things which happened that will become special in memories. The changes in personnel, in administrative posts and the faculty. Spring Fling and its "aftermath." The special friendships made and strengthened. The realization that "we are all in this together," this being Franklin College. The people of FC made '78-'79, and they will continue to make the future.

An Easily Identified Year—'78/'79
